

A New Reality is Dawning

Dear fellow Earth passengers,

I'm introducing to you today something which has been in the work for quite some time. It's called the Manifesto for Peace, Unity and Global Renewal.

Why now ? I felt the inner push a week ago to get moving on this project after I left it to lie fallow for almost a year. The global current situation has a lot to do with it. Yes, the Iran conflagration that could quickly escalate out of control is certainly one reason for the urge to move. The economic consequences of this debacle are already there and will last and possibly degenerate in many predictable and unpredictable ways.

But there is also the AI crisis that is of great concern because of the wild race to facilitate self-amplifying recursive improvements and acceleration that are set to get out of control, with hundreds of millions of jobs globally in the firing line and the degeneration of human intelligence creeping ever faster.

And of course, biodiversity extinction and wholesale ecocollapse of our sole global life support system range next to all the other imminent threats to our survival as a species.

It is all cause enough to pause and ponder what went so wrong and how we could make a deep course correction to avoid the worst pitfalls ahead.

That's where this Manifesto could be instrumental in shifting things in a safer, much better direction for us all and for all life on Earth.

It doesn't deal with the symptoms though. It subtly addresses the deeper causative failures in our global paradigmatic operating system, namely the false beliefs and perversion of consciousness that have silently eroded the foundation of our perception of ourselves and of Life.

I hope this introduction suffices to tickle your curiosity bone enough to click on the following link and make time to read and ponder it.

At the bottom of this document, you'll find a link to the notes resulting from several meetings held last year when we started laying the groundwork for this project.

Here is a short excerpt...

The Manifesto is not intended to be a centralized vision anyone has to adhere to, but rather a fertilizing, cross-pollinated influence arising from the depths of our beings and surfing on the web of waves of all the existing initiatives and activities already carried on by tens of millions of individuals and groups throughout the world, each responding to the inner drumbeat of Source pulsing in us all.

The Manifesto will not prescribe any form of presumptive solutions to the ills of the world. It will be a vessel for common feelings that the solutions already exist, that the brighter future our planet is destined to reach is already in motion all around and within us and well beyond, and that we only need to remember what we all already know, deep within the infinite, intricately connected confines of our Omniversal consciousness where Home is.

Someone has suggested to include an invitation for actions so the Manifesto may permeate minds and hearts. For instance, people could meet in cafes, or virtually, to read and discuss the Manifesto together.

We are definitely open to any and all suggestions that could help create a global momentum to help this initiative reach its full potential. You'll find an email address in the document where to send them. But our goal is not to be a central hub to coordinate or facilitate such actions. The ball is very much in your court. Pick it up and let your inner guidance system tell you what to do with it.

If you decide to run with it, definitely let us know and we will feel out what to do next.

There is no orchestra conductor here. We are all cocreating our new harmonic reality as we go.

Jean

PS A French version is already available at <https://www.earthrainbownetwork.com/pdf/Manifeste.pdf>. Having other versions, curated from the DeepL translation by people with good translation skills in other languages, would also be great. I intend to create soon a video format with a narrated version of the Manifesto as another way to get the word out about it. I also have other ideas to add more depth to various elements in it. All of this and other creative additions will be accessible for the time being as links in the pdf version of the Manifesto at <https://www.earthrainbownetwork.com/pdf/Manifesto.pdf>. Later on, if a dedicated website is created, the various other outcomes of this Manifesto will be featured there.
